NOT TO BE OPENED EXCEPT BY ORDER OF THE COURT

DECLARATION OF SPENCER WOLGANG[1]

I, Spencer Wolgang, hereby declare as follows:

1. I am an attorney with the law firm of Epstein Drangel LLP ("Epstein Drangel"), located at 60 East 42nd Street, Suite 2520, New York, New York 10165 and represent Plaintiff Spin Master Ltd. and Plaintiff Spin Master, Inc. ("Spin Master" or "Plaintiffs") in the above-referenced action. I make and submit this declaration in connection with Plaintiffs' ex parte application for the following: 1) a temporary restraining order; 2) an order restraining assets and Merchant Storefronts; 3) an order to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not issue; 4) an order authorizing bifurcated and alternative service by electronic means and 5) an order authorizing expedited discovery against the above-named Defendants, Third Party Service Providers and Financial Institutions, in light of Defendants' intentional and willful offerings for sale and/or sales of Counterfeit Products (as defined infra) ("Application").
2. Epstein Drangel represents Plaintiffs in intellectual property matters and has been trained by Plaintiffs on how to identify Counterfeit Products.
3. Based on my research, Wish.com is a San Francisco, California-based, online marketplace and e-commerce platform owned by ContextLogic, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("ContextLogic"), that allows manufacturers and other third-party merchants, like Defendants, to advertise, distribute, offer for sale, sell and ship their retail products, which, upon information and belief, originate primarily from China,[2] among other locations, directly to consumers worldwide and specifically to consumers residing in the U.S., including New York (hereinafter, "Wish").

4. As one of the leaders of the worldwide e-commerce and digital retail market, Wish has generated billions in sales worldwide.[3]

5. My research also revealed that international marketplaces, including the U.S., make up a significant percentage of sales made on Wish. For example, online sales account for 8.6% of all retail transactions in the U.S., and nearly 8% of online shopping by teenagers was performed using Wish, which is second only to Amazon.com.[4] On Cyber Monday of 2017, Wish accounted for 6.2% of teenager spending.[5]

6. Currently, Wish is valued at over $8 billion, which is more than the market value of three of the largest traditional retailers in the U.S.[6]

7. Between June 2014 and May 2015, nearly 100 million distinct User Accounts were registered on Wish, and currently, Wish claims a base of over 300 million users.[7]

8. My research also revealed that Wish uses the internet, including Facebook, Google and Pinterest, to market itself and the products offered for sale and/or sold by its third-party merchant users to potential consumers, particularly in the U.S. In fact, Wish is one of the top-five largest advertisers on the aforementioned popular search engines and social media websites.[8] In 2015, Wish spent approximately $100 million on advertisements on Facebook alone.[9]

9. As recently addressed in news reports[10] and as reflected in the federal lawsuits filed against third-party merchants offering for sale and selling infringing and/or counterfeit products on Wish,[11] an astronomical number of counterfeit and infringing products are sold and/or offered for sale on Wish at rampant rates.[12]

10. According to the Better Business Bureau's accredited business profile of Wish.com, Wish has received at least 1,368 total customer complaints in the last three (3) years alone, and the vast majority of those complaints (828) concern problems with the products on Wish.[13]

11. Despite the fact that the Wish has a system in place to report intellectual property infringement, sellers of counterfeit and/or infringing products frequently re-post their listings for such products on their respective Merchant Storefronts on Wish once taken down or open a new User Account and/or Merchant Storefront on Wish under a different seller name and post the same listings for counterfeit and/or infringing products.

12. Pursuant to Wish.com's Terms of Service, if "the merchant conducts above restricted activities or violates this provision, the merchant should pay USD $500 as penalty per incidence." Wish.com's Terms of Service include prohibitions on a merchant being involved with the sale of "any third-party's copyright, patent, trademark, trade secret or other proprietary or intellectual property rights or rights of publicity or privacy."[14]

13. Given our experience in policing against counterfeiters on Wish and other similarly-situated online marketplaces, sellers operating Merchant Storefronts, like Defendants, often use evasive tactics, such as aliases, false addresses and other incomplete identification information to conceal their identities and avoid detection. These tactics commonly are used to attempt to circumvent restraining orders and other remedies issued with prior notice, by disappearing or claiming ignorance of their responsibilities while simultaneously destroying any evidence of their counterfeiting actions and draining their financial accounts.

14. Further, based upon my research and upon information and belief, because Wish does not require sellers to display their registered business name or trade name, contact name, complete address or any other contact information, sellers, like Defendants, use Wish as a means for selling infringing and/or counterfeit products with almost total anonymity.

15. Additionally, my experience has shown that sellers on Wish and other similarly-situated online marketplaces often use shipping or delivery services, such as EMS and DHL, as well as ePacket, that provide minimal tracking and/or use false or incomplete return addresses to further conceal their identities.[15]

16. On behalf of Plaintiffs, we retained New Alchemy Limited ("NAL"), a company that provides trademark infringement research services, to investigate and research manufacturers, wholesalers and/or third-party merchants offering for sale and/or selling products bearing and/or using the Twisty Petz Mark and/or marks that are confusingly similar to, identical to and constitute an infringement of the Twisty Petz Mark and/or displaying and/or incorporating the Twisty Petz Work and/or works that are substantially similar to, identical to and constitute infringement of the Twisty Petz Work and/or otherwise infringe Plaintiffs' Twisty Petz Products ("Counterfeit Products") on Wish.

[15] See Connie Loizos, Wish is Raising Again, and Giving Late-Stage Investors Protection, TECHCRUNCH.COM (Oct. 28, 2016), available at https://techcrunch.com/2016/10/28/wish-is-raising-again-and-giving-late-stage-investors-protection/.

17. It is our experience that discovery will reveal that certain Defendants are related insofar as they engage in coordinated operations involving the manufacturing, distributing, offering for sale and sale of Counterfeit Products.[16]

18. Additionally, Defendants' Merchant Storefronts share unique identifiers, such as design elements along with similarities in price, description of the goods offered and of the Counterfeit Products themselves offered for sale.

19. Through visual inspection of Defendants' listings for Counterfeit Products ("Infringing Listings"), we confirmed that the products that each Defendant offered for sale using virtually identical copies of the Twisty Petz Mark and/or Twisty Petz Works are, in fact, Counterfeit Products.

20. A representative sample of true and correct images of the Counterfeit Products taken from Defendants' Infringing Listings in comparison to true and correct images of Plaintiffs' authentic Twisty Petz Products are attached hereto as Exhibit A and incorporated herein by reference.

21. Additionally, our visual inspection of the Infringing Listings revealed that certain Defendants offer the Counterfeit Products through Wish at below-market prices.

[16] For example, in a similar case involving the sale of counterfeit toys on Wish by China-based defendants, preliminary discovery and a subsequent initial investigation connected seven of the defendants as related entities. See WowWee Group Limited, et al. v. HAOQIN, et al., No. 17-cv-9893 (WHP) (S.D.N.Y Jan. 9, 2018).

22. In light of the multiple Defendants involved in this action, most of whom are shipping the same from China with significant lead times (potentially causing an unnecessary and unreasonable delay in the filing of this action), since we are able to confirm with certainty that the Counterfeit Products offered for sale by each Defendant in the Infringing Listings are, in fact, counterfeit, through the visual inspection of the Infringing Listings, the low prices at which Defendants are offering the Counterfeit Products and because no authentic Twisty Petz Products whatsoever are available on Wish, we have not instructed NAL to complete the purchases for the Counterfeit Products from each and every Defendant.

23. Our firm specifically made five (5) purchases of Counterfeit Products from a representative sampling of Defendants. True and correct copies of the Order Confirmations are attached hereto as Exhibit B and incorporated herein by reference.

24. We also reviewed each of Defendants' User Accounts and Merchant Storefronts and confirmed that many Defendants use unidentifiable seller names unassociated with a registered business, manufacturing company or trading company. Moreover, most Defendants fail to disclose an accurate or complete address or any other contact information on their respective User Accounts or Merchant Storefronts on Wish.

25. For this reason and the reasons discussed earlier, the true identities, locations and contact information of Defendants, as well as the locations of the Counterfeit Products that Defendants are offering for sale and/or selling, are unclear and virtually impossible for Plaintiff to obtain independently.

26. We have used RPost's online services and confirm that its services include verifying valid proof of authorship, content and delivery of an email as well as the official time and date an email was sent and received.

27. It is our experience that sellers of counterfeit and/or infringing products, such as

Defendants, are in constant communication with each other and regularly participate in online chatroom discussions involving illegal counterfeiting activities, pending litigation and potential new lawsuits.

28. Moreover, the Chinese Ministry of Commerce published an article regarding Epstein Drangel's involvement in litigation regarding the sale of Chinese counterfeits on e-commerce platforms.[17]

29. In our experience, a small group of attorneys represent defendants in anti-counterfeiting lawsuits similar to the case at hand, and we have been informed by said defense counsel that they closely monitor the PACER docket, looking for potential new cases and clients.

30. Neither I, nor anyone else at Spin Master, to the best of my knowledge, have publicized this Application or Plaintiffs' intent to seek entry of a temporary restraining order against the Defendants to any third party.

I declare under the penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that to the best of my knowledge the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on this 13 day of November 2018 in New York, NY.
